This figure illustrates that "there is a balance that may tip toward more negative outcomes as the child gets older. An accumulation of negative experiences in school and on the playground, resulting from poor coordination, could lead to secondary consequences for the child’s emotional health" (Missiuna, Moll, King, King & Law, 2007: 95).

Missiuna et al. (2007).